Danemora, N. Y. Feb. 11.—Murderer Bat Shea was electrocuted today for the murder of Robert Ross. Three and three quarters minutes after the current was turned on Shea was pronounced dead. The current was on again for thirty-one seconds. When the current was turned off it was followed by an escape of air from the lungs, sounding like a prolonged sigh, and making some of the spectators think that life was not extinct. The current was renewed for half a minute more.

Fiendish Footpads.

Los Angeles, Feb. 11.—E. Stambler, an Eastern man who has been in this city only a short time, was held up by footpads last night at the approach to the bridge on San Fernando street. TIMES CHANGE ALSO PRICES.

Do you realize this. Do you know what made it. It was not the old time grocers who showed the people the value of a dollar, but new blood forced new prices to the front and showed the people where they were at.

We did not have to reduce prices to meet them they came to our price. This is our claim. We only want you to know where the credit belongs and deal accordingly.

We changed with the times, not after them, and our groceries are sold for modern prices.
